

Georgian Court University Open Play Day

Sponsored by the United States Court Tennis Preservation Foundation
Wednesday February 22nd and Thursday February 23rd, 2017

We invite you to join us for a fun day of court tennis at Georgian Court University, the only US University to have its own court tennis court! The University, which was originally the estate of former World Champion Jay Gould, is now home to a beautiful and historic University with a court tennis program being headed by current World Champion Camden Riviere.

The day will have something for everyone including a tour of the beautiful historic grounds, court tennis matches, and a Dutch treat dinner to follow. Thursday will have a GCU student's clinic with Ladies World Champion Claire Fahey, and the first annual Georgian Court University World Champion Battle between World Champion Camden Riviere and Ladies World Champion Claire Fahey.

Wednesday February 22nd

- 11:00 AM – Arrival of players
- 11:30 AM – Tour of the School and History Lesson
- 12:00PM – 5:00 PM - Match Play and Lunch
- 6:00PM – Dutch treat dinner near by the campus

Thursday February 23rd

- 2:30PM - 4:00 PM – GCU Students Clinic with John Lumley
- 4:00 PM – 5:30PM– GCU Battle between Camden Riviere and Claire Fahey

For more information and to sign up for the day please contact Camden Riviere at courttennis@georgian.edu